

LIVING FOR ETERNITY

BPM 123

D                      Dmaj7                      D7                      G                      CAPO 3 (F)
The evening comes      another day, has passed before my eyes
And if I'm here, tomorrow I'll, see the same again
For, time moves on, with no regard for me
The days, now years, have disappeared...

The morning comes,      another night, has slipped by in my sleep
And with the dawn,      more time is lost, and death steps closer
Still, I cannot, add another day

D                      Dmaj7                      C.....                      Asus A
The hour has come,      to make a change      in my life      and start...

CHORUS                      D Dmaj7                      D7                      G
..... living      for eternity
Today's      struggles      don't change my destiny
                    A                      G                      D                      A
And soon, the dawn, of Heaven will break
                    A                      G                      C                      A
and i'll enjoy, God's promise of, new life      (eternal life)

So future come,      I'm ready for, all that God has planned
With better days,      and deeper joy, a highly favored life,
Here, on this earth,      until my time is through
I'll fix my gaze,      to a heavenly, point of view      => Chorus
